Quotes

Friendship with many is good at a distance.

The constitutional belief in freedom is the basis of all reasoning.

All our struggle is for freedom. We seek neither misery nor happiness, but freedom, freedom alone.

The flesh and the devil are but degrees of difference from God Himself.

In ninety cases out of a hundred, fanatics must have bad livers, or they are dyspeptics, or are in some way diseased. By degrees even physicians will find out that fanaticism is a kind of disease.
